The Buffalo Wallows.

A curiosity of the plains is the buffalo wallows. There has not been a buffalo in them for years, but they are the same today as they were generations or even centuries ago. They are no longer frequented by cattle, of course, and therefore not freshly worn, but they remain in this day barren and black amid the vast plain of living green. In the spring they stand full of water until the advancing summer sun evaporates it, and then they are barren and black again. They are perfect circles, some large as a circus ring, and their basins are packed firm and hard by the tread and roll of many generations of the bison. Another recollection here of this extinct race is the buffalo birds, which abound in great numbers. Their function now, as in the time of the bison, is to pick insects from the backs of the cattle which feed on the plains. Sometimes twenty or more feed on a steer's back, while the steer calmly and with evident pleasure munches buffalo grass.—Kansas City Star.

It Was All Good.

Mr. Jones was very fond of a kind of boiled pudding his wife made, so says London Answers, when she had gone away for an afternoon and evening she promised that she would leave one of the favored puddings in the saucepan for his evening meal.

"Well," she said on her return, "and how did the pudding go down?"

"So-preme!" said Tom, smacking his lips at the recollection. "Twas as good as pudding as you have ever made."

"That's good," was the gratified response of Mrs. Jones. "I'm glad you enjoyed it. What did you do with the cloth?"

For a moment Mr. Jones solemnly surveyed her.

"What?" he said. "Did it have a cloth on?"

The True Ideal.

The true ideal that should fill a man's heart and fire his energies is excellence in his own sphere, the living of his own particular life just as fully and nobly as he—not somebody else's. True, this is an unknown quantity, but it is a real and attainable one. Day by day it is rising, and day by day a man may feel conscious of increased power. Whether it may lead him he cannot tell, but that by his guidance he will go farther and accomplish more than by any other he may rest assured. Attempting nothing impossible, he is doomed to no inevitable disappointment, nor is there any limit at which he may cease to strive.—Self Help.

A Pineapple Plantation.

The first operation in starting a pineapple plantation is to cut off the hammock growth and clear the area, though the stumps of the larger trees are left standing. The "slips," which are simply growths from the old plants, are usually put in with a pointed stick at the rate of 12,000 to the acre. The first crop matures in about eighteen months, and when three crops are secured, in as many years, the fields are abandoned for this culture, the surface again cleared and planted in tomatoes.

Facts About Breathing.

In the ordinary respiration of man 10 or 17 cubic inches of atmospheric air pass into the lungs 20 times a minute, or a cubic foot every 54 minutes—274 cubic feet in 24 hours. The lungs hold 280 cubic feet. At each respiration 1.375 of oxygen is converted into carbonic acid gas. The nitrogen inspired and expired is exactly equal. During the act of inspiration the lungs have been found to be the coldest parts of the body.

Easier to Manage.

Virginia—I have looked the matter over from all sides. Jack offers me a fortune and Harold nothing but his brains. Hazel—I suppose you will take the one you love the best? Virginia—I have concluded that I can take better care of Jack's money than of Harold's brains.—New York Press.

In Legal Form.

Sutor—In suing for the hand of your daughter I feel that I am unworthy of her— Lawyer—Enough; we are agreed. The case must stop. Your suit is dismissed!

Cheering News.

Willie—Papa is going to let me marry sister. Featherstone—How do you know? Willie—He said after all it was better than nothing.

Engaged For Good.

Clarra—Are you engaged to Douglas for good? Gertrude—It looks so. I don't think he'll ever be able to marry me.

A GIRL'S NATURE.

Little Signs That, It Is Said, Reveal Phases of Character.

Much of a girl's nature is betrayed by the little act of brushing a speck off a man's coat. If she picks off the thread or imaginary bit of lint very carefully between the thumb and forefinger it is an indisputable sign that she is a woman of a very practical and executive character.

On the other hand, if a girl should brush the coat lapel of her fiancé very softly and tenderly with the second and third finger of her hand in her endeavor to remove an invisible speck it is a sure sign that she is a sentimental than practical. The man who marries her will live in a continual atmosphere of romance and bad house-keeping.

There is still another type of girl who will brush the speck off a man's coat with a broad sweep of the hand in which all the fingers and thumb play a part. She is in all probability an athletic girl who excels at tennis, golf and the links and who will prove a high spirited, strong minded woman after marriage.

Then, again, the girl who puts a flower in a man's coat with her hand held jauntily upturned from the wrist and the flower held in the tips of her fingers is sure to be something of a coquette, while the maid who gives you only the tips of her fingers when she greets you in the drawing room or public street is probably an ambitious girl.—Chicago Journal.

BATHING AND HEALTH.

Benefits to Be Derived From Cold Water and Rubbing.

A cold bath—we might as well get at the straight of the thing—is not really a matter of cleanliness so much as a matter of getting the skin lived up to and the capillaries and veins next to the surface full of blood. Ice cold water or scalding hot water will do that, but tepid water—no, no!

The skin is almost exactly the same kind of an excreting organ as the lungs. The same products seep through the pores as are carried off in the breath, and the air purifies the blood in the same way. But the great-er part of the skin is smothered up in clothes day and night. What the cold water of the bath dissolves is matter well away. And the rubbing dry is pretty vigorous exercise if you want to know. Any rubbing is bound to push the blood along toward the heart and help the circulation, because there are valves in the veins which prevent the blood from going in any other direction than toward the heart. Whatever loose flakes of outer cuticle are rubbed off we needn't worry about; plenty more where they came from. The extra food the increased appetite demands will make good that trifling loss.—Eugene Wood in Everybody's Magazine.

THE HEART MUSCLES.

How They Do Their Work and Why They Never Tire.

It is generally supposed that the heart is an organ which never takes a rest. But this is not so. The muscles of the heart are not incessantly working. The heart contains four chambers—two upper, called the auricles, and two lower, the ventricles. In the beating of the heart the auricles first contract and force the blood into the ventricles; they then relax while the ventricles repeat the process. Then follows a pause, during which the heart is perfectly at rest.

The contraction of the auricles takes one-fifth of the time between one beat and the next, the contraction of the ventricles two-fifths and the pause two-fifths, so that the heart is really resting two-fifths of its time. Sleep also aids in relieving the muscles of the heart, as it considerably diminishes the rapidity of its action.

This alternation of rest and activity endows the heart muscles with their capacity for untiring work.

Sacred Mountains In Japan.

Travelers in Japan are astonished to find the grandest shrines throughout the land situated on the tops of high, precipitous mountains. This is because every mountain in that country is dedicated to some deity who is believed to be its guardian. These temple grounds are covered with the oldest and largest forest trees, and to the eyes of the people below the effect of the clouds which hover around the peak has originated the belief that the gods hold the power over the clouds to give or withhold rain.

Serenity of Temper.

One sign of mental health is serenity of temper and a self control that enables us to bear with equanimity and unruffled temper the petty trials and jars of life. Especially those who are in contact with scolding, irascible, irritating folk. It is well to remember at such times that these unfortunates are their own worst enemies, and a cultivation of the art of not hearing will help us very much. It is a very useful art all through life and well worth some trouble to acquire.

Far From It.

Young Widow (to partner at ball)—Mr. Crogan, I've made a wager of a pound of chocolate that you are a single man. Mr. Crogan—Ye've lost, ma'am. I'm w'an ar thriplets.—Chicago Tribune.

Force of Habit.

Miss Antique—Why have you always remained single? Oldbach—Simply from force of habit, I suppose. You know, you know I was born that way.—Philadelphia Record.

More to Come.

Bride—I feel awfully nervous. Mother—Pshaw! Don't take your first marriage so seriously. It doesn't have to last forever.—Town Topics.

SISTER SUPERIOR.

AFFECTION IN JAPAN.

It Is Deep and Lasting, but, as a Rule, Not Outspoken.

Public demonstration of affection is most repugnant to the good taste of the Japanese, and it is the absence of this which is so generally mistaken for a lack of genuine feeling. I recall one man who was so devoted to his mother (though I doubt whether he could ever have been said to have "talked about" her) that when she died, while he was abroad, his depression was so profound that my husband watched him with anxiety lest he should commit suicide. The stoical training may render more unsympathetic a coarse nature, but repression to the refined soul brings an exquisite capacity for pain scarcely conceivable by those who are free to give utterance to every emotion.

Another man said to me, "I rarely speak of my mother, for a foreigner does not understand that a Japanese mother may be just as dear to her son as his to him and by the Japanese it is not expected that one should utter one's deepest feeling." That same son, fainting with grief when his mother died and with consciousness returning, turned rose to make light of a "little dizziness," without reference to its cause. To this day, whenever he goes from home, he carries with him his mother's letters, mounted on a beautiful roll of ivory and brocade, and on the anniversary of her passing beyond his mortal ken quietly devotes a portion of the day to meditation and special thought of her. Even to his wife, despite the closest bond of love, he says not, "This is the day of my mother's death."—Outlook.

CRUSTY CARLYLE.

An Anecdote Which Illustrates His Disagreeable Disposition.

Carlyle suffered from dyspepsia and disappointment. He was therefore neither oversympathetic in intercourse with his friends nor fair in his estimates of other writers.

Though he personally liked Tennyson, he spoke with impatience of his "cobbling his odes," dismissed Jane Austen's novels as "dish washings," called the historian, as "dry as dust" and Goldsmith as an "Irish black-guard."

Even the writers of editorials in the press were saluted with this hard saying: "What are these fellows doing? They only serve to cancel one another." A characteristic anecdote illustrates his cruel disposition, which provoked him to inflict pain even on a friend.

An artist who frequented Carlyle's house painted a picture of him in his dressing gown smoking a pipe by the fireside and Mrs. Carlyle in an armchair sitting opposite him. The picture was hung at one of the Royal academy's exhibitions and, though not a striking work of art, was purchased by Lord Ashburton, Carlyle's friend, for £500.

The delighted artist hurried off to the Carlyles, expecting congratulations on the sale and some manifestation of pleasure on their part at having such a value set on a picture of themselves and their domestic interior. He delivered his glad tidings, but all the response he received from Carlyle was: "Well, in my opinion, £500 was just £405 too much."

When to Exercise.

When to exercise is an important consideration. If the morning only is available the exercise should be light. Particularly is this the case if one is engaged in any work. The supply of energy must not be drawn from at the beginning of the day. The afternoon is perhaps the best time for exercise, when one has gained strength from the absorption of the morning and noon meals. Those who exercise vigorously at night should eat a midday dinner. Exercise should always precede bathing and, as a rule, follow it. In this respect the ancient Greeks showed great wisdom. Exercise and bathing they called the two pillars of strength. Exercise was Hercules and bathing Apollo. Both were regarded with equal importance, and neither was complete without the other.

No Longer on the Map.

"What makes you so late?" asked Tim's father, who in the boy's absence had had to see to the evening chores himself.

"Teacher kept me in."

"What for?"

"Cause I couldn't find Moscow on the map."

"Couldn't find Moscow? And I'd like to know who could, then! Why, I remember hearing told of Moscow being burned when I was a boy! It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

Ingenious.

"Jimmy," said the teacher after reading the youngster's "note from his father" excusing Jimmy's absence from school the day before, "it seems to me your father's writing is very much like yours."

"Yes," replied Jimmy, unabashed, "father ain't had no education, and I learn't him."

Taking Care of the Pennies.

Pincher—I believe in that old saying about taking care of the pennies. You know it, don't you? Spender—Oh, yes! "Take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of you heirs."—Philadelphia Press.

More to Come.

Bride—I feel awfully nervous. Mother—Pshaw! Don't take your first marriage so seriously. It doesn't have to last forever.—Town Topics.

MAGIC IN ZUNI TRIBE.

Friend Apparently Lifted a Jug of Water With a Feather.

"The most startling feat I ever saw," said a man who had made a study of Indians in various parts of the United States for his own edification, "was performed by the priests of the Zuni tribe in Arizona, or, as they were called, 'The Ancestors of Creation.' They seat themselves in a circle on the clay floor around a jar that will hold perhaps a gallon, an ancient and sacred earthen vessel, which is filled with water. The chief priest carries in his hand two ordinary eagle feathers, which are tied together at the quills so that they make a fork. Behind the circle of the priests are other members of the tribe and the musicians with their drums and gongs, who join in the chants with emotion.

"The incantations continue for several hours, and when the participants and spectators are brought up to a proper pitch of excitement the priest dips the feather tips into the water, lifts the jar with them and holds it suspended for a minute or two at a height level with his head. Then he lowers it slowly to the ground. This feat is repeated several times during the performance. Apparently there is nothing in the hands of the priest but the feathers, and they appear to be inserted into the mouth of the jar only two or three inches. Of course there is some trick about it, but I was never able to discover it."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

BONE STRUCTURE.

The Compact and the Spongy Kind and Their Strength.

Bone is of two kinds, compact and spongy. As the result of careful experiments it has been shown that compact bone is twice as strong as oak, considered simply as building material. In the shaft of a long bone it is in reality much stronger than this, for it is arranged on the advantageous principle of the hollow pillar, which gives the fullest resisting power with the least possible expenditure of substance.

The delicate layers and bars of spongy bone are arranged on the principle of an arch, enabling very considerable pressures to be resisted. It was found that a cubic inch of this tissue taken from the lower end of the thigh bone and weighing only fifty-four grains was quite unimpaired by a dead weight of 445 pounds.

The curved bones which roof in the skull are constructed to resist great pressure, while they check the transmission of shocks to the brain. Arranged in the form of a dome, they consist of compact bones, with a spongy layer between. These are known as "tables" of the skull. The outer and inner tables are immensely strong, while the middle table serves as a buffer by which the force of blows is distributed.

HIS APOSTOLIC MAJESTY.

Title of the Emperor of Austria as King of Hungary.

The title of "apostolic majesty" is borne by the emperor of Austria as king of Hungary.

Hungary was ruled by dukes from its conquest by the Magyars to the year 1000, the regal title being assumed first by Vais, whose education had been entrusted by his father, Geysa, who had married a Christian princess, to Adalbert, bishop of Prague. On succeeding his father Vais embraced and established Christianity, applied for and received from Pope Sylvester II. the title of "apostolic king," was crowned as Stephen I. and afterward known as St. Stephen.

The title was renewed by Clement XIII. in 1758 and, though abolished in 1848, was reassumed as "apostolic majesty" in 1851 and restricted in 1868 to the Austrian emperor in his character as king of Hungary. The privilege of being preceded by a cross bearer was granted with the original title.—London Standard.

Ancient Bankers.

Among the most valuable evidences of the life and customs of the people of Babylon and Nineveh 700 years B. C. were found, during the excavations at various times, veritable letters of credit, bills of exchange, with and without warranty, money obligations of all kinds, slight drafts made payable to indorser or bearer. These denote the existence at Babylon, 600 B. C., of a bank which must have done a considerable business and shows that it is not only in our day that capital is used to give impetus and keep alive industrial pursuits.

Pardonable Ignorance.

A young American woman, an author, while sojourn in Rome for the first time was anxious to include a visit to the tomb of Caesar. Meeting a citizen on the street she inquired, in her best Italian, the location of the tomb. The man looked greatly embarrassed. "I am desolated, signorina," he apologized, speaking in excellent English. "I do not know. Caesar has been dead so long!"

Sorry He Spoke.

Boarder (warmly)—Oh, I know every one of the tricks of your trade. Do you think I have lived in boarding houses twenty years for nothing? Landlady (frigidly)—I shouldn't be at all surprised.

Her Age.

Tom—Did Maud tell you the truth when you asked her age? Dick—Yes. Tom—What did she say? Dick—She said it was none of my business.

If goodness were only a theory, it were a pity it should be lost to the world.—Hazlitt.

HAPPY NEW YEAR
TO ALL

"Nineteen Hundred and Four"
is just closing in. From a business standpoint this year, like those that have preceded it, has proven entirely satisfactory to us.

While there was, comparatively speaking, a general fall off in business throughout the country and, while almost every merchant in the state has complained of hard times, notwithstanding these facts we have done our share; business has been good with us.

For this, thanks are due to our long list of patrons who, liking the way we are doing business, have stayed with us.

We, therefore, take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the many favors they have shown us in the past and assure them that, should they show us the same courtesy in the future, they will never regret it. We will endeavor, as we have always done heretofore, to please all.

Doing One's Duty.

Let us do our duty in our shop or our kitchen, the market, the street, the office, the school, the home, just as faithfully as if we stood in the front rank of some great battle and we knew that victory for mankind depended on our bravery, strength and skill. When we do that the humblest of us will be serving in that great army which achieves the welfare of the world.—Theodore Parker.

Handy to Have Around.

"You don't mind my leaving so many of these bills, do you?" said the collector, with a touch of sarcasm. "No, indeed," replied the woman in the door. "We rather like it. The children do their examples on the backs of them."

A man never learns how to make his own coffee when he lives at home and his mother has headache, but after he marries he learns.—Aitchison Globe.

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Scott's Emulsion

Misses Lottie and Esther Devan left for San Francisco last Thursday. The latter was compelled to quit school-teaching in Jackson on account of her health, and under the advice of her physician has gone to the city for treatment.

E. B. Moore came over from Copperopolis on Monday, expecting to sit on the board of supervisors that day and complete his term of office. He found that it was a legal holiday, on account of New Year's falling on Sunday. He had to remain over until Tuesday.

Fresh pickled olives of the season just received; 65c per gallon. Nettles' Market.

Samuel Folger, an old timer of the county, and a brother of postmaster Geo. C. Folger and H. S. Folger of Jackson, died in the county hospital last evening, after a protracted illness, at the advanced age of 88 years and 8 months. For thirteen months immediately preceding his death he was confined to his bed from paralysis.

Mrs. W. C. Johns submitted to a surgical operation in San Francisco on Saturday last for the removal of a tumor from the upper portion of the mouth. The tumor had been growing for several months. The operation proved a very trying and difficult one, and the patient lost a great deal of blood. Its removal, however, was accomplished successfully, and while it left the sufferer in a very weak condition, it is believed that a permanent cure has been effected. Mrs. Johns will remain in the city for some time yet, under the care of the operating surgeon.

W. A. Bradford, the proprietor of the nickel in the slot machines, in company with J. Mortimer, went from Jackson to Plymouth last Saturday by way of New Chicago. The roads were such a state that they were bumped on the seat from beginning to end of the trip. Under the cushion of the seat Bradford had placed his overcoat and a muffler, and by the jolting process these were lost somewhere on the road, and the occupants were not aware of the loss until they reached Plymouth.

Sheriff Norman returned Monday evening from a three days' trip, on a quiet hunt on the trail of M. Vatasso, who with two others is wanted for robbery in relieving a man of $180 near the east shaft of the Kennedy mine last month. Vatasso was the advance agent of the trio who accompanied the victim to Jackson for the purpose of robbery. The sheriff traced him to several towns north of Sacramento, Rocklin, Lincoln and Newcastle, and there lost track of him.

Geo. A. Gordon went to San Jose last week to see his wife, who met with an accident on Mount Hamilton some weeks ago, and has been under the doctor's care in a sanitarium ever since. She was not improving as rapidly as might be. He called in an expert surgeon, who made an examination of the injured arm, and decided that an operation was necessary to relieve the pressure on the nerve that was causing the trouble. This was done, and the patient has been much relieved. It is thought her recovery will now proceed rapidly, and that she will be able to return home in a short time.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of Stefano Oneto last Saturday was the largest witnessed in Jackson for years. There were between 40 and 50 vehicles in the procession, besides many on horses and foot passengers. The services were held in the Catholic church, Rev. J. J. Gleason officiating, and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. Deceased was among the oldest settlers in the Middle Fork district, and the residents of the neighborhood for miles around turned out to pay the last tribute of respect by following his remains to the grave. Deceased was one of the wealthiest citizens of that section. He left a will, and one of his sons has applied to the court for letters testamentary.

All coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints that are curable are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. Clears the phlegm, draws out inflammation and soothes the affected parts, strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia. Harmless and pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

MINING NEWS

The operations at the Empire mine in Murphy's gulch, adjoining the Amador Queen No. 2, are being attended with much success, under the management of R. S. Green. One of a fabulously rich character has been taken out in considerable quantities. We are told that the richest portion of the ore, which is of the black metal character, will assay at the rate of thousands of dollars per ton. Between one and two tons of this rock has been taken out. It is sent below for treatment, as it is not free milling rock. Seams of this high grade ore abound in that region. The Mammoth, Valparaiso, Amador Queen No. 2 have yielded large sums from the same class of ore.

The old Keystone continues to hold a foremost place as a bullion producer. It has surrendered gold for a longer period and in more liberal quantities than any other mine in the county. Its output seems to be on the up grade. It is said the last clean-up approximated $30,000.

The new twenty stamp mill of the South Eureka is about completed, and is expected to start any day. It is one of the best equipped mills in the county, and when it gets in operation the South Eureka, in the opinion of those who ought to know, will take its place among the dividend-paying properties. The old 20 stamp mill will suspend operations as soon as the new mill is in running order.

The Zella chlorination works shut down this week, the supply of sulphurets being exhausted. When the mill will resume operations is uncertain, as it depends upon the completion of sinking operations and the erection of the new hoisting machinery.

Stopped Hauling.

On Saturday last a heavy piece of machinery passed through Jackson bound for the Standard Electric plant at Electra. It consisted of the shafting for the dynamos, and weighed 10½ tons—the heaviest load hauled for the plant so far this season. It took 22 animals to haul, and such was the difficulty of the undertaking that block and tackle had to be used in getting over the hardest portions of the road. It required ten days to make the trip from Ione to Electra. Nearly a whole day was consumed in making one mile between the Zella and Butte City. The experience of this trip has satisfied the company of the impracticability of hauling such machinery in the present condition of the roads. No further attempt will be made until the roadbed gets harder, and that probably means that teaming will be suspended until the winter is over, or until the railroad is in active operation.

Organizing the Board.

At the assembling of the new board of supervisors at the noon hour last Tuesday, a slight ripple occurred in the election of chairman. Supervisor Grillo was elected temporary chairman, after which another, W. M. Amick, who was the man fixed upon by the majority for permanent chairman, was by a misunderstanding nominated for temporary chairman. Thereupon Grillo moved to amend this motion to read permanent instead of temporary chairman. The motion to amend was carried, and there the matter dropped, under the impression that Amick was thereby selected as permanent chairman. Upon the reassembling of the board after the noon hour, the question arose whether any permanent chairman had been elected. It was necessary to settle this point at once, as the chairman and district attorney were required to count the money in the treasury. A hot debate arose. Finally the matter was straightened out by supervisor Grillo as temporary chairman putting the motion to make W. M. Amick permanent chairman, which was carried by a unanimous vote.

A Pleasant Pill.

No Pill is as pleasant and positive as De Witt's Little Early Risers. De Witt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by all druggists.

LANCHA PLANA.

LANCHA PLANA, January 3, '05. The entertainment and dance Christmas eve was well attended, and a very enjoyable affair. The little ones were not forgotten by old Santa Claus.

Fog and frost seem to be going hand-in-hand here of late, as the weather has been very cold and disagreeable for the past two or three weeks.

Wm. Hunt and wife, of Stockton, are here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hunt.

Edgar Ekel and wife went to Forest Home last Saturday to spend Christmas with relatives.

Leo and Ben Metzner, of Galt, are visitors at the Dewey home.

Miss Birdie Adams went to Sacramento Thursday to visit friends.

Mrs. Wiethoff, who has been quite sick with pneumonia, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Miner and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Early to-day. DOUBTFUL.

No More Stomach Troubles.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says: "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health. I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by all druggists.

LEVI STRAUSS & CO.

Home Seekers.

[COMMUNICATED.]

Quite recently a resident of the Sacramento valley, who desired to purchase a home for himself and family, was attracted to Amador county through the description of a certain piece of property advertised in one of the local papers. The property as described seemed to suit the would-be purchaser, and he left his home and work for the purpose of making a personal inspection. He arrived in due time, looked over the farm carefully, inquired the price, and expressed himself as perfectly satisfied. He visited one of the owners, inquired about the title, etc., and started for Sutter Creek to interview the second owner and consummate the purchase. On his way thither he made inquiry for the person whom he wished to see, and accidentally or otherwise fell into the hands of the would-be real estate agents who had numerous other properties for sale "at a bargain," and as a result the land-purchaser never got to see the party whom he wished to see, and from what we can learn has left the county thoroughly disgusted with everything and everybody. He declared the advertised place to be the best and cheapest that he had seen, but finally said, so we are told, that as some of the neighbors had tried to condemn the place to him he felt that if he should purchase and improve the farm and afterwards should desire to sell they would condemn the property to others just as they had to him. The man impressed us as one who would be a desirable addition to any community, but he has perhaps been driven from the county by men who never paid a dollar to advertise property, but who make it a business to seize upon any and every stranger that comes our way, drive him around for a few days, and if he makes a purchase anywhere within the county claim a reward. To act as a real estate agent is an honorable and legitimate business, but to take a person's property to sell on commission and then double the price and prevent a sale, or perforce make a sale, claim one-half and commission on the remainder is not legitimate, nor fair to either settler or purchaser.

A few days ago we were talking to a man about another man's farm. He said you can buy that farm for such a price. We had seen the owner not 24 hours before and he offered us the farm for $250 less than the price fixed by this man, besides offering us a reasonable commission. This second man was simply paying the way to claim $250 from the owner in case of a sale. Amador county needs more variety farmers, chicken raisers, fruit men, wine makers, etc., etc. Landowners should divide their holdings, set a definite price on salable property, put it in the hands of some one who will advertise it extensively, and if a sale is made pay only a reasonable commission. By doing this more sales will be made, and better satisfaction given to both buyer and settler. Then, and not until then, will we receive this much desired addition to our population—the small farmer.

Where Shall the Depot be Located. Wilford Dennis went to the city Sunday morning on business concerning the Ione and Eastern railroad. He says that a surveying crew is to be put to work at once to mark out the route from Martell's to Jackson. It behooves the people concerned to look out that the depot is located at a point the most advantageous to the business interests of the town. It is believed that the company will locate the terminus at any available point selected, provided reasonable terminal facilities are afforded. To have it half a mile from the business center would be a decided handicap. There is no reason why it should be so located. We may just as well have it at the right place. To have to haul local freight half a mile to and from the depot is a tax that should be avoided if possible. We understand it may be avoided if the business community will make the necessary overtures to that end. This matter brooks of no delay, as when the surveyors start to work the terminal point must be definitely known, and the survey made accordingly.

Tonic to the System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little Pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of LaFayette, Ind., says: "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by all druggists.

STARTING THE NEW YEAR.

Jackson Becomes a Pandemonium.

The advent of the new year was celebrated in Jackson by scenes of disorder that eclipsed all previous records. It has been usual to have a "little time" when the old year is about to expire, and the new year about to be born. But all past efforts to celebrate the occasion were thrown in the shade by the orgies that held high carnival during Saturday night and Sunday morning. If a stranger had dropped into Jackson during those hours of revelry he would have witnessed a sample of the "wild and woolly west," that would have impressed him with the idea that the "days of '49" are not yet relegated to history. Perhaps in most of the towns on the coast the introduction of the new year is the signal for the small boys and some children of a larger growth to go on a toot. The tooting is manifested in divers ways, the blowing of horns, firing of pistols and explosion of bombs. The disturbance is tolerable for a half hour or so, but when it is prolonged from midnight until daylight, as was the case in Jackson this week, it becomes a nuisance that demands stern measures to suppress it if necessary.

Oro Fino Circle of Foresters gave a social dance in Love's hall on New Year's eve. It was not until after this festive occasion closed, about two o'clock, that the roysterers obtained full swing, and simply run things to suit themselves. The officers of the law seemed powerless to stop the proceedings. A continuous cannonade of bombs, exploding with a report equal to a small cannon, was kept up on Main street for five or six hours. Sleep was out of the question to any one in the neighborhood of the business street. Besides the bombs, pistols were brought into requisition. The incandescent lamps outside business places on Main street were made the targets. Nearly all of them on either side of the street were shot out. Some person, bolder than the rest, invaded the Webb building and placed a bomb at the door of the sitting room of the editor, adjoining the sleeping apartment, where it exploded. The man was down the stairway before the inmates were made aware of his lawless mission. By the noise of the explosion. A large pane of glass in S. Myers' show window was smashed with a rock. A smaller square was broken in Angove's saloon. In the Delta saloon the interior partitions were demolished. Here at one time amusement was furnished to a crowd of twenty or thirty by setting fire to an umbrella and chasing the occupants around the room with the firebrand, the flames leaping up two or three feet high. Much of the damage done was paid for. Some of the victims are losers, and will doubtless remain uncompensated. The following morning the expressions of indignation of the people on realizing the extent to which the spirit of mischief and disturbance had been carried, were loud and strong. Not an arrest was made.

AMADOR CITY.

Arthur Palmer and bride returned home last evening from a three weeks' trip to San Francisco.

Miss N. Payne of Jackson, was the guest of Mrs. Mae Arditt Sunday.

Mrs. Green of Drytown, is the guest of Mrs. J. M. Hinkson.

Idelle Whitehead, who has been attending the Winters high school, is home on her vacation.

William Richards is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wrigglesworth spent Sunday in Jackson with relatives.

Mrs. Martin, who has been on the sick list, is improving.

A crowd of our young people attended the mask ball in Sutter Dec. 31st, and report a good time. They want to go again.

Stanley Pearce, the past master of Amador hotel, left this week for Sacramento and San Francisco.

Mrs. Green, of Drytown, is spending a couple of weeks in Amador, the guest of Mrs. Hinkson.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of both Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap, but Dr. Freeman reports it nothing serious in either case.

The return of Arthur Palmer and bride last Monday evening was made cordial by the reception of many friends, and of course a full orchestra of bells and tin cans.

A goodly turn-out of Amadorites attended the New Year's ball given by the Miners' Union at Sutter Creek, and all reported a good time.

The Grand Jury.	Passing of Another Pioneer.	San Francisco Artist Wins Fame in Paris.
The grand jury, after finding six true bills for felony, as stated in another column, adjourned last Friday, without making a final report. Committees were appointed to investigate the various branches of the local government, and when these are prepared to report to the general body, the grand jury will again assemble at the call of the foreman. This jury has evinced a disposition to make a thorough investigation into county affairs, which cannot be accomplished in two or three days, usually allotted to the jury's deliberations. It is in the exercise of a wholesome restraint against extravagance or looseness in local affairs that a grand jury may still be of much service in our political economy.	A. J. Crain, one of the oldest and best known residents of the northern portion of the county, died at his home in Shenandoah valley on Wednesday last, after a protracted illness. Deceased was 72 years of age, and a native of Missouri. For many years he filled the position of superintendent of the Plymouth ditch, representing the interests of the Hayward and Hobart estates in the mining and water rights of that locality. When it became evident that he could not recover his nephew, Albert C. Wilson, went over from Diamond Springs to see him. Mrs. J. M. Lewis of San Francisco, and Mrs. William Burns of Aukum, and Mrs. F. A. Ruoff of Sheep Ranch, who are daughters of Mr. Crain, were with him when the end came. The funeral was to take place to-day in Plymouth.	Joe Raphael, former student at the Hopkins Art Institute, is painting pictures that win the highest praise from Parisian art critics. He has spent much time in Holland recently, and is now at work on a picture for the next salon, to be called "The burgomaster and his children," which promises to be one of the sensations of the salon.—S. F. Chronicle. The artist referred to is a son of N. Raphael, the tailor of Amador City. It is pleasing to learn that an Amador county son is winning fame in the world of art in the very center of art in Europe.

Shooting Near Indian Diggings.	A Guaranteed Cure For Piles.	A Good Show.
About ten days ago a man was shot about four miles from Indian Diggings, and the district attorney went there last Thursday to investigate the case. It seems that William Marr was intoxicated and went to the home of a Mrs. Burroughs and got into an altercation with her. Clifford Burroughs, her son, aged about fourteen, shot Marr through the shoulder with a rifle, acting, it is claimed, in defense of his mother. Marr appears to have considered himself to blame, as he stated that the wound was accidental and did not appear to desire prosecution. Marr is in the Jackson hospital, and when he gets out the matter may be differently presented. Young Burroughs was discharged after a preliminary examination.—El Dorado Republican. A heavy rain storm, accompanied by a high wind, set in last Friday, and continued through Saturday. As measured by the gauge at the Ledger office the precipitation was as follows: Dec. 30..... 0.63 " 31..... 1.02 Total for week..... 1.65 Total for season..... 12.18 Same period last season..... 10.03 Ledger and Weekly Chicago Inter-Ocean $2.50 a year.	The Laurelle Comedy Company gave a show in Love's hall last evening, Jan. 5, to a good house. The audience would have been larger had the excellent character of the amusement furnished been generally known. The entertainment is of a varied nature, including comedy, drama, vaudeville, moving pictures, etc. They will be here to-night and to-morrow night. Every lover of fun should turn out and see these artists. They will also play in Sutter Creek and Amador City next week. Assaying 75 cents.
